Note:

Electoral Divisions (EDs) are used to record population figures. EDs are the smallest legally defined administrative areas in the State for which Small Area Population Statistics (SAPS) are published from the Census.

The census figures are compiled by the Central Statistics Office (CSO) (www.cso.ie).

The main household census caters for up to six persons present in the household on Census Night. There were 30 questions in the 2011 census form to be answered in respect of each individual who was present in the household. In addition, there were 11 household questions that the householder was required to answer relating to the household's accommodation. The household form also sought limited information about persons who were temporarily away from the household on census night.

2 Population

Over the five-year inter-censal period between 2006 and 2011 the population of the State increased by 8.22% to 4,588,252. In South Tipperary, the population only increased by 6.26% to 88,432.

In 2011, population of the Clonmel RAPID areas identified above was 1,625 persons.

7 RAPID

RAPID (Revitalising Areas by Planning, Investment and Development) is a focused Government initiative to target the 51 most disadvantaged urban areas and provincial towns in the country. Rapid aims to bring about significant improvements in the lives of the residents of its communities. RAPID does this in three main ways: -

1. Improving the delivery of public services through integration and coordination;
2. Improving the opportunities for communities to participate in the strategic improvement of their areas; and
3. Giving, where possible, priority access to available resources to RAPID communities.

RAPID is implemented locally by a cross-sectoral Area Implementation Team, which includes representatives of the community, relevant state agencies and other partners.

In each area a local RAPID Coordinator supports the Programme.

Pobal manage the RAPID Programme on behalf of the Department of the Environment, Community and Local Government.
